

Suggested route

A journey through codebreaking

If you would like to explore the Bletchley Park story through time, please follow this route.

Block C Secrets Revealed
Visitor Centre and introduction to Bletchley Park.

The Mansion Original Victorian mansion with Commander Denniston's office and the Library recreated as they were in WW2, plus Veterans' Stories and Early Days exhibitions.

Garages Wartime vehicles and how top secret intelligence material was transported.

Stableyard The buildings where the first British breaks into the German military Enigma cipher machines were made.

Huts 11A & 11 The Bombe Breakthrough
Home of the Bombe machines developed by Alan Turing and Gordon Welchman to speed up the daily search for Enigma cipher keys.

Huts 3 & 6 Restored German army and airforce codebreaking huts.

Hut 8 German naval Enigma codebreaking hut with Alan Turing's WW2 office recreated.

Teleprinter Building D-Day: Interception, Intelligence, Invasion
An immersive cinematic experience explaining Bletchley Park's role in the planning of the D-Day operation.

Block A NEW The Intelligence Factory
How Bletchley Park operated at an industrial scale with a multi-skilled workforce of around 9,000.

NEW The Art of Data
Temporary exhibition on data visualisation.

Block B Museum Exhibitions about Alan Turing, the development of GCHQ and the German Lorenz ciphers.

National Radio Centre (NRC) Radio communication from inception to present day and its place in the future.

📷 Tag us in your photos #BletchleyPark

- Multimedia Guide (Free)
- Information and Tour Booking (Free)
- Tour Meeting Point (1h)
- Shop
- Parking
- Accessible Parking
- Accessible Entrance
- Challenge HQ Classrooms

- Toilets
- Accessible Toilets
- Baby Changing
- Coffee Shop
- Kiosk
- Café
- Afternoon Tea

Entrance and Exit

The National Museum of Computing
5 min walk from Visitor Centre. Independent museum with its own entrance and admission fee

The Fellowship Auditorium
Opening 2023

Block E Learning Centre
Opening 2023

More parking
2 min drive from Visitor Centre

Bletchley Town Centre
15 min walk

Bletchley Train Station
7 min walk

What to see if you're... Visiting with the children

Families can expect an exciting, fun-filled day, exploring the museum with hands-on interactive displays.

- Most Secret Mission Packs On arrival, pick up one of our Most Secret Mission Packs providing activities and fun facts for all the family to enjoy. Available to buy from the admissions counter and the shop.
- Multimedia guide A family tour specially designed for kids is available on our free multimedia guides.
- Block A NEW Explore our two new exhibitions with something for the whole family.
- Hut 8 Fun interactive tables exploring codebreaking techniques.
- Free family fun workshops During the school holidays we run a variety of workshops and activities for children of all ages, see website for details or ask on arrival.
- Play area A children's play area is located near Hut 4 Café.

WE VALUE YOUR FEEDBACK
Scan this QR code to tell us about your visit

MAP

BLETCHLEY PARK

Welcome to Bletchley Park

Thank you for visiting today. As an independent museum, your support means a lot to us.

We want to ensure you have a very enjoyable day out with us. Here are some ideas on how to make the most of your visit:

- Guided tour You can book onto a free, one-hour guided tour at the Information Desk.
- Multimedia guide Pick up a free multimedia guide to help you explore Bletchley Park at your leisure.
- Here to help If you have any questions during your visit then please speak with a member of the team.

We love to see your comments and photos, so please don't forget to check in on social media #BletchleyPark

 Subject to availability*

What to see if you're... On a short visit

A typical visit to Bletchley Park is between four to five hours. If you have less time to spend with us today, why not start with these highlights?

- Block C Secrets Revealed
Visitor Centre and introduction to Bletchley Park.
- The Mansion Original Victorian mansion with Commander Denniston's Office and the Library recreated as they were in WW2, plus Veterans' Stories and Early Days exhibitions.
- Codebreaking Huts Huts 3 and 6 have been faithfully restored to bring to life the WW2 ambience and for you to explore the different tasks the Codebreakers and their colleagues tackled on a daily basis. Hut 8 includes Alan Turing's office and interactive tables exploring codebreaking techniques.
- Teleprinter Building D-Day: Interception, Intelligence, Invasion
An immersive cinematic experience explaining Bletchley Park's secret D-Day role.
- Block A NEW The Intelligence Factory
How Bletchley Park operated at an industrial scale to meet operational demands, with a multi-skilled workforce of around 9,000.
- NEW The Art of Data
Temporary exhibition on data visualisation.

Keep in touch

Come back time and again

Your Annual Pass offers unlimited free returns for a year. This means you can return again and again without any additional charge.

Monthly news

Sign up to our free e-news, featuring exhibition updates, upcoming onsite and digital events and special offers. Go to bletchleypark.org.uk

Become a Friend

As a Friend of Bletchley Park, you can enjoy free unlimited year-round access to our museum and heritage attraction, a subscription to ULTRA magazine, exclusive Friends' events, and discounts in the shop and café. Join today at Admissions or online at bletchleypark.org.uk/friends

Scan the code to become a Friend

Get involved

Volunteering at Bletchley Park is a great way to learn about the Park's role as the Home of Codebreaking during World War Two, meet people with similar interests, and share your knowledge and enthusiasm with visitors! Volunteers are a vital and valued resource at Bletchley Park. For more information please contact us at enquiries@bletchleypark.org.uk bletchleypark.org.uk

Shopping and eating

Shop

Our shop is open every day and features a specially curated selection of seasonal gifts, books, apparel and home accessories related to Bletchley Park's collections and stories.

Eat and drink

Enjoy a variety of delicious food choices, including vegan and no gluten options. Please check on arrival where you can grab a bite to eat or a coffee.

- Block C Coffee Shop Hot and cold drinks, light lunches and cakes, with plenty of space to sit down for a break.
- Hut 4 Café Delicious hot and cold food, including freshly cooked meals made on site with locally sourced ingredients. Grab-and-go salads, sandwiches and cakes. Please check opening times on arrival.
- Hut 1 Kiosk Hot and cold drinks, and sweet treats. Open selected dates.
- The Mansion Please join us for afternoon tea in our Victorian dining room. Available on selected days, reservations required. To book, contact enquiries@bletchleypark.org.uk
Limited spaces may be available on the day, please speak to Admissions.